ICOLD ahead to the progress of dams and reservoirs engineering to address the world's challenges

Dams do not sit still. ICOLD Board, Executive Office, National Office and some National Committees are working hard to ensure that the dam industry is prepared to meet the challenges of the future. ICOLD is the only international organization that provides a platform for dam engineers to share their experiences, learn from each other and work together to address the world's challenges.

ICOLD 2013's anniversary

ICOLD celebrated its 50th anniversary on 27 October 2013. The organization was founded by General Sir John Hope in 1963. During the anniversary week, ICOLD Board members and staff from around the world gathered in Geneva for the 10th ICOLD General Assembly. The theme of the assembly was "50 Years of Progress: ICOLD's Role in the World's Dams and Reservoirs".
