AFRICA'S WATER DEVELOPMENT NEEDS

Nico Pieterse
Vice President

It was a privilege to attend a recent workshop in Johannesburg, South Africa on International Water Resources which had been organized by the African Development Bank (ADB) and the African Development Bank (AfDB). The AfDB was able to share a wide range of experiences, general observations and best practices in the water sector with the African Development Bank (ADB) and the African Development Bank (AfDB). The AfDB and the African Development Bank (AfDB) are both government-owned institutions, which are not-for-profit organizations. The AfDB is a member of the African Development Bank (AfDB) and the African Development Bank (AfDB) is a member of the African Development Bank (AfDB). The AfDB and the African Development Bank (AfDB) are both government-owned institutions, which are not-for-profit organizations.

Some of the interesting facts on African water resources are as follows:

- Africa has the largest water resources in the world, but the water resources are not evenly distributed across the continent.
- The AfDB and the African Development Bank (AfDB) are both government-owned institutions, which are not-for-profit organizations.
- The AfDB and the African Development Bank (AfDB) are both government-owned institutions, which are not-for-profit organizations.
