ICOLD ON THE FRONT LINE FOR DEVELOPMENT

Luis Rojas
President, ICOLD

Achieving the 2015 millennium goals is the greatest challenge the world has ever faced. The Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) will be achieved by 2015 if sufficient investment is made. The global effort is being made to improve water and food security, but there are still many challenges. ICOLD is working to help achieve water and food security in the developing world.

The use of dams is still a controversial issue. However, the benefits of dams in terms of water supply, flood control, and hydroelectric power are well known. ICOLD is working to help achieve water and food security in the developing world.

Michael De Vito
Secretary General, ICOLD

It is essential for the development of ICOLD to promote and develop water and hydroelectricity in the developing world. ICOLD is working to help achieve water and food security in the developing world.

ICOLD should be able to assist in the development of water and hydroelectricity in the developing world. ICOLD is working to help achieve water and food security in the developing world.
